The achievements of an organization are the results of the combined effort of each individual. Vince Lombardi

It is that time of the year to vote for our leadership for the next term. Our association needs active participation. When I was presented with the John Sciera Service Award this January, I related the story of moving back to New York State and looking for a job. The frustration did not involve finding positions specifically, but of the financial offers that came with them. It made me angry. Then when EATA came to Buffalo and the early attendance figures were posted, the low regional registrations made me angry again. It was then that Deanna Errico reached out and asked if I would run for Region 7 representative. I saw this as an opportunity to make improvements in our profession for the next generation. I cannot say that I have finished the work for the next generation yet, but I have tried, along with other members of the NYSATA leadership. As the job is not yet finished, we need membership participation in our elections. Get involved and lead your region!

What is next? The ever-present practice act! Karin Carreau, our lobbyist, reports: "I met with Senator LaValle's staff and asked if we could please move the bill quickly on their side this year so we can hyper focus on the Assembly. They agreed and as such, have put it on their first HE Committee Agenda!" The bill has since passed that first hurdle again. The next step is a vote by the Senate finance committee.

Government does not move quickly, until someone pushes hard. We have been at this process since 2012. I have heard some people ask why, wondering what the big deal is between certification and licensure. Certification essentially prevents someone from calling themselves a "certified athletic trainer" unless they have met the educational and legal definition. That is all it really does. Licensure not only provides a greater protection for the public, but it legally puts ATs on the same plane as every other licensed profession in NYS. If you work or want to work in a hospital for example, your value will increase because having licensure allows an AT to legally perform more duties. This will eventually lead to a positive effect on the job market as supply and demand increases opportunities.

ATs Care

The mission of the ATs Care program provides the necessary tools to help districts and states implement and grow a network of athletic trainers trained in peer-support, and establish Critical Incident Stress Management (CISM).

ATs Care also serves as a resource for Athletic Trainer CISM teams at the district and state levels. The NYSATA leadership has voted to fully support this program. Susan Geisler, PT, ATC, Cornell University, has been named as our team lead and we are now soliciting members to be trained to provide peer support. We would like at least one person from each of our eight regions to be trained and be part of the ATs Care-NY team. If you are interested, please submit a short statement of commitment with your résumé to me via email.

Awards

Deanna Errico, PT, DPT, ATC - Chair

This fall we had two nominations for the John Sciera Service Award with one recipient.

It is with great pleasure that the Awards Committee announces the honor having presented the John Sciera Service Award to Bob O'Malley. Bob was given the award during the NYSATA business meeting in Boston during the 2018 Eastern Athletic Trainers' Association conference.

Bob spent the beginning of his career in Pennsylvania at Philadelphia University. Since then, he has settled nicely into his position(s) at Excelsior Orthopedics & Sports Medicine in Amherst, NY, and Williamsville South HS. He has now spent nearly as much time with us in NY as he did in PA. Bob was compelled to get involved in NYSATA in order to help athletic trainers in New York State achieve more. His first step was to organize the free Head Injury Seminar that was connected to the EATA conference in Buffalo in 2013. This was done on the heels of the NYS Concussion Management and Awareness Act (enacted in 2012) to help all levels of professionals better understand the changes for High Schools, and give them the most recent research on concussion. It was also a great opportunity for the members in NYSATA to step in to help him make this seminar a success, which gave NYSATA great exposure in Western New York.

While President-Elect, Bob also took on the big responsibility of organizing the NYSATA conference in NYC (while living at the other end of the state) with great success. Bob is progressing the Presidential objectives well with his excellent leadership skills and continued focus of our efforts on licensure. He has participated in exhibiting at various state organization conferences and has helped us develop an excellent relationship with the Family Physician and Orthopedic Physician organizations in NYS which has helped NYSATA make legislative gains. Bob is very deserving of the John Sciera Service Award and I hope many have an opportunity to thank and congratulate him!

Conference & Program

2018 NYSATA Conference

June 9 & 10, 2018
SUNY Cortland

We're excited to be returning to SUNY Cortland for the 2018 NYSATA Conference! The program is shaping up as the conference committee is reviewing many exciting proposals. Program information will be announced later in February, but we expect to have 8 CEUs including 2-3 EBP CEUs.

We will also have one or two optional Sunday workshops - so plan to stay the weekend. We will have Cortland dorms available, as we were not able to secure a hotel block of rooms due to a NYSPHSAA tournament.

Keep checking your email and the NYSATA website for program information and registration materials.

Sophie is a senior athletic training student at Ithaca College. She is a member of the IC athletic training student association, and a recipient of the Laurence S. Hill and Adrian M. Newens Scholarship in the Health Professions.

Paul DeMartinis Memorial Scholarship: Kimberly Presuto

Kimberly is a senior athletic training student at Ithaca College. She is a member of the IC athletic student training association, and a starting goalie on Ithaca College women's lacrosse team. Kimberly is a two time goalie of the year.

Edward Abramowski Scholarship Award: Korey Bunal

Korey is a senior athletic training student at SUNY Cortland. She is on the SUNY Cortland Deans List, and a recipient of the John Sciera scholarship award.

Governmental Affairs Report

Aimee Brunelle, MS, ATC, EMT
- Chair
Deanna Errico, PT, DPT, ATC
- Chair

We know we are familiar faces and that you were aware of our "behind the scenes" participation in the legislative efforts, but Aimee Brunelle and Deanna Errico have officially taken over the Government Affairs Committee as Co-Chairs. We thank previous chair, Christine Jenkins, profusely for her tremendous energy and determination in making great gains in leading us towards legislative change and for her leadership on Lobby Days. Her position has grown into so much work it will take two people to manage it! Moreover, it is time for Christine to put all her energy into getting her doctorate degree. Thank you Christine!

NYSATA is off to a fast start in the 2018 legislative session. Thanks to our lobbyist's (Karin Carreau) help, our Bill 1356B was already placed on the Senate Higher Education Committee Agenda by sponsor Senator Funke. The bill was discussed and was passed by the committee on January 22, 2018. This is much earlier than in previous years. We also have Lobby Day planned well in advance and earlier than past years – put it on your Calendar: Monday, April 16 at 9am.

While our bill passed this committee, Senators had questions and about 1/3 of them either voted no or abstained. Aimee and Deanna will meet with many of these individuals in the last week of January. We need to further educate our Senators and Assembly members because the discussion in the Higher Ed meeting made it clear that there is misinformation out there and it's up to us to help them better understand what we do and why it's important for athletic trainers have an updated practice act. Our bill next moves to the Finance Committee.

Most of our effort in past years has been on members of the Senate and on working with groups who oppose us. This year, we are also acting earlier in contacting members in the Assembly including more focused energy on educating members of the Assembly's Higher Education Committee. Once our bill passes the Senate overall, it will next go to the Assembly. We hope that having co-chairs in Government Affairs will help for an organized and consistent focus from all NYSATA members to get this legislative action to move further this year, however, athletic trainers in NYS cannot rely only on NYSATA leaders to create legislative change. It is going to take every athletic trainer to help. We are again asking NYSATA members to contact their legislators to request their support of our bill. It is essential to have bipartisan support of our bill, so that it can pass. Remember, we would love to have many of you attend Lobby Day on April 16, but we need everyone consistently throughout the next few months to take action by contacting their representatives in NYS!

Be on the lookout for more information coming soon – we will be in touch!

MARCH 2018

NYSATA Legislative Update

Karin Carreau
The Elk Street Group

We Are On the Move!

The 2018 Legislative Session officially began on Wednesday, January 3 with the Governor's annual State of the State address. The 92-minute speech (his longest to date) gave us a glimpse of his upcoming policy priorities such as immigration reform, a progressive women's agenda, workforce development, infrastructure improvements, a state tax code overhaul, measures to stem the opioid crisis, criminal justice reforms, efforts to combat sexual harassment, and ethics reform. The overall theme of the address heavily focused on the state's progress since he took office, strongly condemned the federal government on several fronts and gently weaved in sobering facts regarding the state's current fiscal crisis, namely, a projected $4.6 billion deficit. Compounding the deficit – a potential loss of $2 billion in federal funding for certain healthcare programs, and the impact of the new federal tax law, which includes limitations on the deduction of state and local taxes.

On Tuesday, January 16, 2018, the Governor provided his vision of how to accomplish the above with the release of his Executive Budget proposal for fiscal years 2018-19. The proposal, totaling $168.2 billion, will keep the rate of growth in spending for state operating funds below 2 percent at 1.9 percent, while providing for a 3 percent increase in education aid and 3.2 percent increase in State Medicaid spending. Meanwhile, the Executive budget proposal also includes a plan to close the $4.4 billion budget deficit through $2.7 billion in spending changes, $0.7 million in resource changes, and $1 billion in revenue raisers (i.e. new taxes and fees). The delicate dance of two houses and the Executive has begun.

Over the course of the next several weeks, legislators and advocates alike, will be consumed with Budget Committee Hearings, Sub Committee meetings, the release of one house budget bills (each house submits their own budget proposal). In March, the flurry of budget related activities reaches a fever pitch as the two houses and Executive, their staff and advocates engage in tooth and nail battles over each detail. All this will take place against a backdrop of leadership jockeying in the senate, highly anticipated special elections for a number of vacant seats in each house, primary threats, an early indictment and arrest of an Assembly member and sexual harassment allegations of a sitting member of the Senate.

However, despite the Legislature's hyper focus on the budget between now and March 31, we have been very successful in keeping the Athletic Trainers' licensure bill front and center. You will remember that, last year, for the second year in a row, the bill passed the Senate (despite many challenges and new opposition) but failed to move through the Assembly. Senate Rules (unlike the Assembly) require bills that fail to pass both houses in a given year, to return to the committee of origin (in this case – Senate Higher Education Committee) where they must wend through the process all over again. In years passed, this process has taken most of the session, however, this year, we got a head start, as (at our request) the bill was placed on (and successfully passed) the first Senate Higher Education Committee meeting of the year. Though there was a bit of debate, among party lines, it was referred to the Senate Finance Committee, where it has passed twice. Nevertheless, we will not rest on our laurels. We have begun meeting with members who voiced concerns and will continue to do so until the bill is successfully shepherded through the upper house.

Concurrently, we have been working with the Assembly as well, meeting with key members, nudging their interest, attempting to quell concerns and engaging them on the issue. However, work remains in overcoming the challenges in the lower house. You can help us build momentum in the Assembly by continuing your calls to your specific representative. While we are striving to reach a majority number of co-sponsors (76), we are almost halfway to our goal at 34. Keep up the good work and if you have not yet done so, please take the five minutes to make the call. Members are very responsive to constituents. They are there to represent you and take their jobs seriously. Given the Super Bowl is less than a week away, concussion identification and management is a commonplace topic in the news. Take advantage of such heightened awareness to engage your representative. Let them know how vital your role is on the field and off, at all levels of play, and ask for their assistance in finally passing your licensure bill (SB 1356b, AB 2783b)!

Another way to engage your legislators is to take advantage of the fact that March is National Athletic Trainer Month. Turn the Celebration into a "SELL-abration." Sell your legislator on the value of Athletic Trainers. Your National and State Associations have a number of resources available on their website such as educational talking points about the profession, posters and even video clips. Send your legislators a Talking Point sheet and a quick note asking they co-sponsor the bill, share a video clip and ask them to cosponsor the bill. Invite a legislator to your athletic training room and give them a tour!

In the meantime, we will be at the capital each and every day, working with key policy makers, shoring up support from peer organizations and mitigating opposition as it inevitably rises to the surface. Go Team!

Research & Injury Tracye Rawls-Martin, MS, ATC - Chair

Call for Grand Proposals

The NYSATA Research and Injury Committee would like to take this opportunity to invite Athletic Training Students (undergraduate/graduate), Faculty (full-time/part-time) and Preceptors (clinical educators), Professional Sports, Secondary Schools and other emerging Athletic Training settings; Health Care Administration/Rehabilitation, Military, Occupational Health, Performing Arts, and Public Safety to take part in the future of athletic training education by submitting research projects for grant funding during the 2018 academic year.

I encourage you to submit grant proposals for research projects that are new or the ones you've had on the back burners forever. It is time to stop procrastinating, write the grant proposal, and submit it to us no later than May 15, 2018. This will give us enough time to review your work, enough time to re-submit if necessary and the NYSATA budget department time to allocate funds to jump start the research project during the fall semester and more importantly enough time for you to participate in the poster presentation at the June 2018 NYSATA conference.

Committee Chair: Tracye Rawls-Martin

Public Relations

Michael Cendoma, MS, ATC - Chair

Douglas Sawyer, MS, ATC - Chair

The NYSATA Public Relations Committee has undergone some changes. First off, Kristy Hart, after many years of wonderful service as chair, has stepped down. Becoming a mother for the third time, grad school, and so many other things are requiring her attentions and energy, and the PR chair's job has grown so much, that she has decided to let the PR chair's responsibilities slide on to another. We thank her for the incredible job she has done over her time as chair, the countless hours working on NATM, NY AT Week, PRweb and news releases, and so much more. Thank you Kristy!

That being said, because of the growing needs of the PR committee, the chair has been split into co-chairs. Our new PR chairs are Douglas Sawyer, MS, ATC, and Michael Cendoma, MS, ATC. Douglas will be focusing more on our efforts with NATM, NY AT Week, assisting with social media, and strengthening existing PR campaigns. Michael will be working closely with Government Affairs in our efforts to update our practice act, and to increase AT advocacy in the state. He will be striving to foster support for our efforts in getting our practice act updated. As well as to educate others to bring better understanding of the role the AT and the importance of our being on the sidelines for athletes of all ages.

As you may already know, National Athletic Training Month is just around the corner. It is time to start making plans on how to celebrate our profession, while educating the community around us about what exactly an athletic trainer is, what we do, and how we increase the safety of our athletes and the patients we work with. One way to do this is contacting local legislators and inviting them to come visit your athletic training room and helping them better understand our jobs and the importance of updating our practice act. For more information on how to do this check out the Governmental Affairs report, or email either of the co-chairs, Aimee Brunelle or Deanna Errico.

Other ways include making PSAs at games and other events, putting up signs, banners, and information and statistics about athletic trainers in and around your athletic training room, gyms, and athletic fields, and sending emails to parents, faculty, and administrators to better inform them of what we do. The NATA has materials on their NATM webpage that will help you do this.

Another great way to celebrate, and help promote the profession is to join Stony Brook during their invasion of NYC on March 23, 2018. On that morning, they, with numerous other ATs and AT students, will descend on the Today Show and Good Morning America. We are hoping to have a large presence of ATs and AT students filling their audience during the live broadcast in an effort to gain attention across our nation for our profession. If you are able to join, or would like more information email Lauren Stephenson ASAP.

We will also again be holding our annual ATEP video contest. Information will be emailed shortly to all of the CAATE programs in the state. In addition, we will again hold another meme contest, which was very popular last year, and are planning a return of our twitter contest. More information on these contests and other activities relating to NATM will be posted on our website in the next few weeks.

Thank you for all of the wonderful energy you always bring to events such as this. Please let us know your plans and activities for celebrating NATM 2018. We would love to see pictures, and hear the details of what you have done to celebrate during the month. You can email them to us.

Secondary Schools

Jarett Rhoads, MSEd, ATC, CSCS - Chair

Greetings Secondary School Athletic Trainers! I hope that your winter season is winding down smoothly and are looking forward to a minor respite before the spring season begins. As we enter 2018, the NYSATA Secondary School Committee is feverishly working on two important initiatives on which we need help from you.

The Kory Stringer Institute (KSI) has been working on the Athletic Training Locations and Services (ATLAS) project, as you are aware from my previous newsletter bulletins. During the first portion of this project, all secondary schools were mapped and labeled as "Full Time Athletic Trainer," "Part-Time Athletic Trainer," or "No Athletic Trainer." I am very pleased to report that, with your help, we were able to map 100% of the secondary schools in New York this past June. That is a tremendous accomplishment and I am very thankful for the efforts every secondary school athletic trainer put in to make that happen.

KSI has now begun the second phase of this project and we, again, need your assistance. They are now seeking more in depth data from the secondary schools that have access to an athletic trainer. They are asking each athletic trainer complete a brief survey that will only take a couple minutes of your time to complete. Prior to completing the aforementioned survey, you will need the following information:

- School contact information (street address, town, state, zip code)
- # of students enrolled in school
- # of athletes involved in organized sports at the school
- # of sports offered at the school (boy's and girl's counted separately)
- Credentials/specialty of MD who signs off on standing orders
- Credential of athletic trainer completing the survey (optional)
- BOC #, State Certificate #, and National Provider Identification (NPI) # (if applicable)

Please go online to access and complete the survey.

The submitted information in the survey will be used for a multitude of initiatives at the National, District and State levels to help progress our profession. Therefore, NYSATA feels it is imperative that we get 100% completion once again to accurately document the current data in New York State. As such, we want to extend an incentive as part of your participation. All athletic trainers that complete the survey by March 30, 2018, will be entered into a drawing for a multitude of prizes as a thank you for your efforts.

The second initiative that the NATA and NYSATA are supporting is the Athletic Training Outcome Monitoring (ATOM) project. ATOM is designed to demonstrate the significant impact athletic trainers have on the health, wellbeing and function of the injured athletes they care for on a daily basis. ATOM is the first program designed specifically for the athletic trainer to measure and quantify injured athletes' improvements in function to their school administrators on a large-scale basis, using nationally accepted functional outcome measures. Data collected from this program will provide evidence as to the impact athletic trainers have on the health and wellbeing of their athletes over the course of a season or school year for years to come. In addition, it provides a mechanism to objectively evaluate and compare the effectiveness of various interventions to better determine best practices. This information should be used to demonstrate the efficacy and need for the skilled medical services provided by athletic trainers.

Functional Outcome Measures provide specific scientifically sound measures of an athlete's current level of function at the time of injury and at the conclusion of their plan of care by the athletic trainer. Numerous medical professionals and researchers are already collecting this data, and third party payers, as well as the Center for Medicare Services, are utilizing it to measure a health care provider's effectiveness. NYSATA is seeking 25-50 full-time school district employees and full-time contracted athletic trainers in New York State that are willing to participate in this project. We understand volunteering for things that are in addition to your already busy schedule is a challenging endeavor, but feel the data that stands to be gained will be invaluable to providing objective data of what we do and how effective we do it as proof of our qualities as a health care professional.

Please contact me if you have an interest in participating and I can provide you with further information of exactly what is entailed. We appreciate your consideration in being a part of such a monumental project.

As always, if there is any way I can be of assistance to my fellow Secondary School Athletic Trainers, do not hesitate to get in touch with me. Take care!

Region 4
Christine Scuderi, MSED, ATC

Deanna Errico was honored with the Cramer Award on Saturday, January 8, 2018 during the Eastern Athletic Trainers' Association conference. The Cramer Award was developed by Cramer Products in 1966 to provide a method for the Eastern Athletic Trainers' Association to honor those members who have provided excellent leadership in serving the EATA and in doing so, advanced the profession of Athletic Training. She is only the ninth athletic trainer from New York State to win the award.

The plaque inscription states: "To the Athletic Trainer who, through leadership and excellence, has contributed most significantly to the advancement of the Athletic Training profession."

Janet Parcell Mitchell, a Physical Therapist/Athletic Trainer from Canton, NY, was able to complete a Sports Medicine Volunteer Rotation at the US Olympic Training Center in Colorado Springs, CO from January 7-21, 2018. This was her second rotation with the USOC. While there, Janet primarily worked in the clinic and focused on evaluation, rehab, and treatment of injuries, as well as preparation for practice with Olympic and Paralympic athletes. Janet also assisted with practice and event coverage for Men's Gymnastics, Men's and Women's Boxing, Men's and Women's Freestyle Wrestling, and Men's and Women's Karate. She was able to observe tests and screenings completed on the elite athletes as part of their Elite Athlete Health Profile, and assisted with collecting data for a study being conducted by the FDA.

Sports Medicine at the US Olympic Training Center is a very interdisciplinary field, where physicians (MD/DO), physical therapists, chiropractors, athletic trainers, and massage therapists work side by side to give the athletes the best treatment possible. For more information on the Sports Medicine Volunteer Program, visit their website.

Strong Bomber Presence at EATA 2018 in Boston
Over 25 undergraduate students, 1 graduate student from Ireland, several program alumni and 3 AT faculty were in attendance at the 2018 EATA Annual Conference & Symposium during the first weekend of January.

Director and Associate Professor Paul R. Geisler, EdD, ATC, presented a plenary session on the program's unique curricular design and philosophy and moderated two other sessions at the inaugural EATA Educators' Conference on Friday. Graduate student Paddy McEvoy, ARTC, ATC traveled from his home in County Kilkenny, Ireland to present his thesis research as graduate poster finalist, and five senior AT majors presented their peer reviewed research projects to the professional community. Senior AT majors Matthew Booth, Hannah Robison, Sophie Knittle, Alessandra Marenzi and Diana Zaichenko teamed up with Professors Jennifer McKeon, PhD, ATC, CSCS, Courtney Gray, MS, ATC, and Patrick McKeon, PhD, ATC, CSCS to present six different research posters on Saturday.

Senior AT major, Kimberly Presuto placed 3rd in the D2 AT Quiz Bowl, qualifying her for the national competition at NATA's Annual Convention in New Orleans, this coming June. Kim and fellow senior, Sophie Knittle, also received Scholarships from the NYSATA during the NYSATA state meeting on Saturday afternoon, while Senior AT major, Katherine Helly received the Kent Scriber Scholarship from the EATA during the awards banquet on Saturday night.

Faculty Publish Article in the Journal of Athletic Training
Clinical Associate Professors, Courtney Gray, MS, ATC, and Todd Lazenby, MA, ATC, and Clinical Professor Chris Hummel, MS, ATC, recently published a case report on female ACL injury management in the Journal of Athletic Training. "Nonsurgical Management of an Anterior Cruciate Ligament-Deficient Knee in a Women's Soccer Player: A Validation Clinical Case Report" was published in Volume 52, Issue No. 11.

IT Carlow Exchange

Ithaca College is welcoming its fourth year of exchange students from IT Carlow this January. Denise Deering and Claire Healy have arrived in Ithaca and will be attending classes within the Athletic Training Education Program and working clinically with the baseball and lacrosse teams. They will be attending Ithaca College throughout the spring semester. IC students Jamie Albrecht and Victoria Voorhees returned to IC after spending the fall semester abroad as students at IT Carlow.

Junior Selected for NATA Student Leadership Committee
Katie Dolan was recently notified that she was selected to be the next District 2 Representative on the Student Leadership Committee of the NATA. This committee provides a voice for students within the athletic training community. The SLC promotes learning about issues affecting the athletic training profession, getting involved in volunteer opportunities, and taking a stand on matters affecting students in the present and future. Congrats Katie!

Paul Geisler Appointed to NATA Executive Committee on Education

Program Director Paul Geisler, EdD, ATC, was recently appointed to the NATA's Executive Committee on Education. Any educators who would like concerns or issues brought forward at upcoming meetings can email Paul.
